

Make Dreary Days Green with Indigenous' Fair-Trade and Organic Accessories for Fall and Winter

Accessorize fall and winter issues with the premium, warm designs of Indigenous' organic fair-trade hats, gloves and scarves. The quality pieces, made with only the finest natural fibers, are meticulously hand knit by artisans in fair-trade co-ops around the world.

Perfect for topping off fashion shoots or rounding out gift guides, the accessories feature modern ethnic designs, contemporary feels, fluffy organic cotton and more.

GLOVES:

- Cable Gloves (MSRP $24) are 100% organic “cozy” cotton and cover wrists fully for maximum warmth.
- Serenity Glove (MSRP $40) is fingerless and fun, made with free-range alpaca wool and combines function, fashion and an artsy feel with its subtle snowflake design. It's a one-of-a-kind pair.

HATS:

- London Beret (MSRP $56) is a true beauty: It takes an artisan three days to knit the cap made of a free-range alpaca and wool blend.

SCARVES:

- Cozy Cable Scarf (MSRP $48) goes dramatic: It's super long and super gorgeous.

- Essential Muff (MSRP $28) is like a knitted necklace; the 100% organic cotton muff is a unique addition to any outfit and can be worn in any way you choose.
- Milano Ruffle Scarf (MSRP $72) pulls from contemporary designs and is very long – 68 inches – and very skinny – 3 inches.
