Pull the Shade on Post-Summer Skin Woes with Control Corrective Skincare Systems® Redness Relief Serum Hydrating, paraben-free formula fights dehydration, visible sun damage and more

Irvine, CA (August 7, 2012) – Skin showing the effects of too much summer fun-in-the-sun? Give fall a fresh face by fighting post-summer dryness, hyperpigmentation and blotchiness with Control Corrective Redness Relief Serum – a hydrating, soothing formula designed to bring skin back to its soft, supple and glowing state.

“After-summer skin can be dehydrated, tight and less forgiving when it comes to visible lines and wrinkles,” said Ellen Clark, president of Control Corrective. “To ensure things get back in balance, this is the time to visit your esthetician for professional facial treatments and update your home care product system.”

Control’s botanical-based Redness Relief Serum brings moisture back into sun-kissed skin, soothes and calms sun-induced inflammation, and helps reduce trans-epidermal water loss with skin-balancing vitamins that also reduce redness and inhibit future flare-ups.

An ideal year-round product for sensitive, inflamed or Rosacea-prone skin, the super-hydrating formula can be applied as often as desired (typically twice daily) under moisturizer or sunscreen. MSRP: $48 for a one-ounce container.

To complete a post-summer skin fix, Clark also recommends drinking plenty of water, using the Control Corrective Balancing Thermogel Mask (MSRP: $28) for seven days straight to “power hydrate” and spraying Control Corrective Balancing Tonic (MSRP: $24) or Control Corrective Sensitive Skin Tonic with Aloe (MSRP: $24) on the face throughout the day.
