Combat the Signs of Aging Eyes with Control Corrective Skincare Systems® Collagen Eye Defense

Lipid-rich cream smoothes over the "summer squints" by fighting fine lines and improving skin texture

IRVINE, CA (May 30, 2013) – This autumn, turn back the hands of time on more than just your clock with Control Corrective Skincare Systems Collagen Eye Defense – a lightweight, moisturizing eye cream designed to treat fine lines, uneven skin texture and other signs of aging.

A perfect post-summer antidote to dry and sun-damaged under-eye skin, this hydrating cream is packed with antioxidants, botanicals and lipids that gently plump surface dehydration and fine lines while enhancing skin flexibility and improving texture.

“There’s no better time to introduce Collagen Eye Defense than after the ‘season of squinting’,” said Ellen Clark, founder and president of Control Corrective. “A couple nourishing drops daily of this highly penetrable cream will not only minimize lines, but also prevent them from deepening.”

The non-greasy formula is ideal for all skin types and glides on easily under moisturizer, keeping the delicate eye area less sensitive to and defended from daily environmental assaults. Suggested use is a pea-size amount applied around the eye area twice daily, after cleansing.

Control Corrective Collagen Eye Defense is available in a 0.5-ounce container for $36.
