Chocoveda's Vegan Truffles Provide Sumptuous Mother's Day Gifting All Natural Chocolates include Coconut Oil to Offer Healthy, Guilt-Free Mother's Day Treat

SHERMAN OAKS, CA (February 23, 2012) – Show mom the sweet side of life this Mother's Day with Chocoveda, 100% natural dark chocolate vegan truffles. Deliciously decadent and beautifully designed and packaged, Chocoveda's truffles are gluten and preservative-free with exceptional ingredients including extra virgin coconut oil, proven to provide limitless health benefits moms will surely appreciate.

"The benefits of Coconut Oil are virtually endless. Weight loss, improved digestion and heart disease prevention are just a few of the advantages of adding it into your diet," said Julia Lungin, founder and president of Chocoveda. "Chocoveda strives to empower people to live in a state of balance in their body, mind and spirit, which is why we always use healing ingredients such coconut oil, for a truly euphoric, healing experience."

Unlike other oils, Coconut oil doesn't turn into fat in the body, due to its medium-chain triglycerides (MCT), which are an easy fuel for the body to burn. It has also been proven to increase energy output and metabolism, as well as provide anti-fungal, anti-bacterial and anti-viral effects.

All Chocoveda chocolates also incorporate organic ashwagandha, or "Indian Ginseng," the ancient Indian healing herbal tonic. Revered for over 5,000 years as a holistic anti-aging herb believed to support overall health and longevity, ashwagandha also contributes to building strength and immunity, easing stress and anxiety, and supporting healthy skin.

The Goddess box, perfect for the matriarch in your life, is one of Chocoveda's three collections, honoring women's strength, beauty, grace, wisdom, and compassion. The artistically decorated 72-percent dark chocolate truffles, inspired by the Goddesses of the East, contain all-natural fruit essences of wild strawberry, gorgeous guava and pink grapefruit, as well as a keepsake box including a 16-page booklet describing the inspirational characteristics of each goddess. MSRP: $35

Other collections by Chocoveda include:

The Chakra box, featuring seven inspirationally-designed truffles that represent the seven chakras (energy centers of the body that help with balance), includes flavors such as chai, tangerine, ginger/lemongrass, green tea, peppermint, pomegranate and honey/vanilla, plus a 20-page booklet that describes each chakra. MSRP: $30

The Garden Box, Chocoveda's latest collection, contains garden-inspired truffles with fruity and floral delights in rose, orange blossom, Meyer lemon and pear flavors, along with a 24-page booklet of poetry, recipes and a seed patch to plant herbs. MSRP: $35

Formed in 2009 by Chocolatier and Ayurvedic Practitioner Julia Lungin, Chocoveda takes chocolate to a higher state by blending the finest quality all-natural, organic, vegan, gluten-free, and preservative-free ingredients (sustainable semi-sweet chocolate, organic extra virgin coconut oil, cocoa butter, and all-natural and organic flavor oils) with organic ashwagandha, or "Indian Ginseng," an Ayurvedic healing herb (ancient India's system of health and wellness).
