Banish Acne on the Spot with Control Corrective Skincare Systems'® Exfo Tonic

Powerful formula controls excess oil, dissolves hardened cellular debris and lightens post-blemish hyperpigmentation

Irvine, CA (October 02, 2012) – Acne, or even an occasional blemish, can wreak havoc not only on one's face, but also on one's confidence - especially before an important meeting or first date. Whether a busy executive still experiencing occasional breakouts or a teen with chronic acne, take charge with Control Corrective Skincare System's Exfo Tonic, an exfoliating antiseptic tonic that helps stop acne on the spot.

As part of Control Corrective's Acne Collection, this invigorating tonic can be used either as a full or spot treatment to help control excess oil, dissolve hardened cellular debris and lighten post-blemish hyperpigmentation, boosting one's skin regime. It can also multi-task to help clear clogged pores on the chest and back as well.

"This highly keratolytic exfoliating toner can be used several ways, explains skincare expert Ellen Clark, president of Control Corrective.

"Those who are very oily can apply it to a cotton pad and use it on the entire face. However, if you are not a fan of strong toners, just dip a cotton swab applicator into the solution and dab on blemishes once or twice daily. For many people, this antiseptic and dissolving toner is all they need to keep their skin clear. It works!"

Active ingredients include glycolic acid, salicylic acid and witch hazel for a potent formula that dissolves blemishes. Exfo Tonic is available in a six-ounce bottle - MSRP: $24. (not recommended for sensitive skin)
