

Winter Travelers Add Arcopédico® Comfort Footwear to their Wish-List Feminine Shoes & Boots Make Winter Wanderings a Walk in the Park

Women hitting the road for holiday celebrations, winter vacations or work conferences this season will find secure footing in the latest comfort-travel shoe and boot styles from seasoned globetrotting outfitter Arcopédico. Whether the weather requires calf-height puddle-hoppers or fuzzy insulation from the snow, Arcopédico protects feet from the elements, while providing signature dual-arch support, flexible circulation-support and durable, pavement-gripping soles for a cush ride from Point A to Point B.

Dance in the Rain

As the rain sets in and the temperatures drop, the R66 Boot (pictured left) provides fashionable relief with the no-slip grip of rubber soles and a tall boot silhouette. Designed with either a solid calf shaft or a white floral lace overlay print; available in a brushed or leather-like toe, the R66 adds a touch of grace to brighten the winter sidewalks. The R66 offers a petit feminine sole with a slight platform heel for additional style (MSRP: $179; black, cherry red or Bordeaux). Paired with jeans or a dress these boots are made for walkin'.

Cuddle by the Fire

Cozy up on the plane, train or car ride this winter in the Milan 2 faux-fur-lined boot (pictured at right, MSRP: $139), which can be folded down for a cool cuffed look, or worn tall for maximum warmth. The durable, water-resistant Lytech exterior combined with a weather-ready, arch-supporting sole makes the Milan 2 the number-one choice in sophisticated, yet casual, boot wear.

Holiday Celebration's Friend

Head out to winter parties and holiday celebrations feeling sleek, smart and secure in Arcopédico's L45 Mary-Jane style shoe (pictured left; MSRP: $99). Featuring a festive, shimmery white or black Lytech exterior (a lightweight, washable, flexible, durable and breathable fabric), the shoe dresses up for occasions, while the adjustable strap, anatomical fit, and arch-supporting sole mean she can stay out all night without risking pinched toes or blisters. Paired with slacks, these shoes will help her celebrate in comfort.
